

COMMUNIST STUDENTS

Student politics is often insular, cliquy and separate from the working class movement.

Britain's Young Communist League want to put class politics back to the fore by:

- Fighting for free education and the abolition of fees
- Bringing students into the struggle against austerity and for investment in public services
- Linking up with local campaigns alongside trade unions and tenants organisations
- Promoting policies in student unions which benefit staff and students
- Opposing cuts on campuses
- Bridging the gap between staff and students and supporting university staff in their fight for better pay and conditions
- Providing Marxist education and an introduction to Communist politics
- Hosting talks and debates on Marxist theory and current events
- Promoting working class feminism and the struggle for LGBT rights
- Building resistance to imperialism and war and solidarity with the socialist countries
